

LECTURER IN SPORT BUSINESS

Job Ref: REQ17625

As part of the University's ongoing commitment to redeployment, please note that this vacancy may be withdrawn at any stage of the recruitment process if a suitable redeployee is identified.

The Institute for Sport Business (ISB) is committed to high quality learning and teaching and aims to provide its postgraduate students with a range of innovative and challenging learning experiences. The Institute offers a Master of Sport Business and Innovation, Master of Sport Business and Leadership and a Master of Sport Business Analytics and Technology programme.

The research aim of the Institute is to facilitate the development of world-class research that is distinctive and highly relevant to the business of sport. The Institute seeks to examine the rapid growth in the business of sport and its accompanying impacts in an era of significant social, economic and technological change. This is achieved through theoretically informed research that bridges the gap between research, practice and policy. The Institute is committed to retaining a focus on the three key impact areas, 'leadership and change', 'innovation', and 'social responsibility'.

ISB will build mutually beneficial relationships with industry, government and policy makers. Through these strategic links ISB will enhance the learning environment for its students and to undertake research that is socially, environmentally and economically necessary.

For further information on the position please email the Institute Director Professor James Skinner on J.L.Skinner@lboro.ac.uk
