

Deputy Director Research & Innovation Office (Integrity, Risk & Compliance)

Job Ref: REQ260639

Department Summary

The Research & Innovation (RIO) Office plays a leading role in shaping and delivering the University's research and innovation activities and provides a high quality, added value and seamless service to researchers across the research development pipeline. The Office incorporates several different teams that provide support for nurturing partnerships and collaborations; identifying and applying for funding; managing research projects and assuring compliance with policy; improving the visibility of research outputs; fostering the impact, intellectual property, and commercialisation of research; and the nurturing of research leadership skills through training and skills development programmes. The RIO also works closely with other Professional Services across the University, notably Legal Services, Registry, Student Services, Finance and HR.

Following the launch of the University's new strategy 'Creating Better Futures. Together.' we are seeking to support, shape, develop and implement the University's Strategy regarding its' research, innovation, and partnership ambitions, in conjunction with academic leaders, partners and funding bodies. The Pro Vice-Chancellor for Research and Innovation (PVC-RI) has strategic responsibility for research and innovation and has implemented a strategic plan to deliver on our ambitions of becoming more research-intensive, innovation-driven, internationally engaged, and impactful with our R&I activities.

Job Description

Job Grade: Management and Specialist Grade 9

Job Purpose

The Deputy Director of the Research and Innovation Office will play a pivotal leadership role in advancing the University's Research and Innovation ambitions as set out in the Research and Innovation Core Plan. The postholder will help drive progress across our key objectives, enhancing research focus, strengthening research culture, and increasing research impact, ensuring the University continues to grow its share of research funding, fosters creativity and openness, and maximises the real-world benefits of its work. A key part of the role will involve strategically influencing government bodies, major funders and partner organisations, strengthening the University's voice in regional, national and international research and innovation landscapes, and shaping policies, priorities and collaborations that enables the University's research and innovation to thrive.

Working in partnership with senior leaders, the Deputy Director will lead the post award finance, reporting and compliance functions, ensuring effective leadership of effective stewardship of research funding and full adherence to regulatory, institutional, and funder requirements. A strong emphasis on research integrity, proactive risk management and robust compliance will underpin all aspects of this leadership. The postholder will also contribute to building an inclusive, collaborative, and vibrant research culture, empowering both researchers and research enabling staff to thrive. They will work closely with the PVCRI and the Director to develop and implement new initiatives aligned with the R&I Core Plan ambitions embedding integrity, risk awareness, and compliance excellence across the research and innovation environment.

Through skilled leadership, service design, and stakeholder engagement, the Deputy Director will, as part of the RIO Senior Leadership Team, shape a dynamic, integrated and strategic Research and Innovation Office that supports worldclass research and positions Loughborough for continued success.

The post holder will be expected to demonstrate a highly collaborative approach, working across the University and with external organisations. You will have a positive and inclusive leadership style, excellent communication and influencing skills and extensive knowledge of the UK research and innovation policy and funding environment, with the expertise, networks and gravitas to influence externally for the benefit of Loughborough research & innovation activity and the profession of research management more broadly.
